Carmarthenshire

In addition to the references cited below, various periodicals contain much information of value to those researching or safeguarding the rich biodiversity in Carmarthenshire.

Dyfed Invertebrate Group Newsletter (published 1986-2001) contained much detailed information on a range of invertebrate groups, with annual recording reviews on Butterflies, moths and others.

Llanelli Naturalists Newsletter (in particular 1982-present) and the Llanelli Naturalists Bulletin (1995 to present) again contains much information, not only in SE Carmarthenshire but also reviews of wildlife of the whole county.

The Botanical Society for the British Isles (BSBI) Welsh Bulletin holds regular updates on botanical recording in Carmarthenshire, including Richard Pryce's comprehensive reviews on the Carmarthenshire Flora Project.
